This is the first comprehensive biography of Clarence Charles Hatry, 1888-1965, an enigmatic and charismatic public figure. Hatry was the son of Jewish immigrant parents who became a company promoter and whose companies collapsed in 1929, leading to a crash on the London stock exchange. He was brought down by a desperate fraud. At his trial three months later, the judge said that he could not imagine a worse crime. Analysing transactions in detail, the book reveals Hatry's brilliance as a manipulator and a world-class networker and persuader. It also demonstrates his vain belief in his ability to overcome any risks and his insecurity which led him to surround himself with sycophants who would not challenge his ideas. It shows how others used Hatry to make money, and, as he destroyed himself, as a scapegoat who distracted from the City's failings. Despite his deepest ambitions, he remained an outsider. Until now there has been no full biography of Clarence Hatry, which may be attributable to the lack of records, as his business papers are believed all to have been destroyed. This comprehensive biography is based on examination of the memoirs of Hatry's contemporaries, the archives and records which they and their companies preserved, and press reports of Hatry's activities. Marking the 90th anniversary of Hatry's collapse, this book will be important reading for academics and researchers looking to gain a greater understanding of the context of the 1929 crash, or of financial crises generally.

Photomaton & Vox (1979) è il libro più ama- to di Hélder, una sorta di «alfabeto apocalit- tico» (Edoardo Sanguineti), in cui lo scrittore declina i brevi testi in prosa poetica i temi più cari della sua grammatica autoriale: dal rap- porto con la sua isola natale alle esperienze esistenziali vissute in Africa sulla scia di Rim- baud e al rapporto con la tradizione poetica europea. Volto e scrittura si sovrappongono in una sorta di autobiogra a frammentaria che è al contempo una personalissima arte poetica.

A autobiografia de um poeta obscuro? Ou a invenção poética de uma biografia? Em "Photomaton & Vox", o "eu" autoral não se distingue das alegorias, homenagens, montagens, imprecações e metáforas apocalípticas que o texto convoca. Em prosa ou em verso, ambos ritmados e vigorosos, Herberto Helder fala da sua ilha natal, das experiências limite, das deambulações europeias, dos seus companheiros de jornada (Hölderlin, Rimbaud, alguns surrealistas, alguns beats), mas fala sempre de outra coisa. Defensor de uma "radicalização do discurso lírico", o poeta contesta a realidade vista como documento, a cisão entre o interior e o exterior de uma cabeça, a legibilidade transparente. E por isso faz de cada imagem "a chave de outra imagem".

As London emerged from the Second World War, planners and policymakers sought to rebuild the city in ways that would reshape the behaviour of its citizens - a programme defined by a strong emphasis on conservative values. This book examines how queer men legitimized, resisted, and reinvented this reconstruction programme.
